How to use this pack

This is a working document, not a book. You do not need to read it in order, and you do not need to finish it before you start. Open the section that matches the problem in front of you today.

> Two sections need your own information before this pack is fully useful: the your details worksheet on the next page, and the checklist at the back. Fill in the worksheet first — it takes about ten minutes, and everything else refers back to it.

What is in this pack

— The message pyramid

— A positioning statement you build in five lines

— Tone and voice worksheet

— Twelve fill-in templates

— Before/after rewrites

Who it is for

Business owners whose work is good but whose description sounds like everyone else's — or worse, like a brochure.

What this pack will not do

It will not do the work for you, and it does not guarantee a result. It gives you the structure, the words and the routine. The rest is you, doing it consistently for a few weeks. That is not a small thing — most people do not.

THE PROBLEM

Why this exists

'We provide quality service and customer satisfaction' describes every business and therefore none.

Clarity is not dumbing down. It is the work of removing everything the customer does not need, so the one thing they do need is obvious.

PART 01

The message pyramid

Build from the bottom. Most people start at the top with a slogan and wonder why nothing lands.

— Base · Fact — what you literally do, in one line.

— Middle · Difference — what is true of you and not of them.

— Top · Feeling — what the customer gets to feel, or stop feeling.

PART 02

The five lines that make a position

— 1 · We help [who]

— 2 · to [outcome]

— 3 · by [what you actually do]

— 4 · without [the thing they dread]

— 5 · in [time / place / price frame]

SECTION A

Positioning templates

The plain statement	We help Lagos small businesses turn WhatsApp enquiries into paid orders, without hiring a salesperson.
The category statement	We are a two-person studio that builds five-page business websites in 14 days for a fixed price.
The enemy statement	We are the opposite of an agency: one page, one price, one week, one person to call.
The niche statement	We only build for food businesses. That is the whole list.
The before/after statement	You know what you do in your head. We put it on a page so a stranger understands it in five seconds.
The honest statement	We are new, we are small, and we are cheap because of it. Here is what we can do.

SECTION B

Rewrites — say it like a person

Before	‘We provide innovative digital solutions tailored to your needs.’
After	We build websites for small businesses in Lagos. Five pages, ₦300,000, three weeks.

Before	‘Customer satisfaction is our priority.’
After	If something is wrong, message us and we fix it. That is the policy.
Before	‘Passionate about quality.’
After	Every piece is checked before it leaves the shop. If it fails the check, it is remade.
Before	‘Affordable prices.’
After	Ankara sets from ₦18,000. Delivery in Lagos is ₦2,500.
Before	‘We are industry leaders.’
After	We have done 41 of these. Here are three.

SECTION C

Tone worksheet — answer in five words each

How we sound	Plain, warm, specific, unimpressed by jargon.
How we never sound	Hype, exclamation marks, ‘world-class’, blame.
Words we use	Fix, build, cost, days, message, clear.
Words we never use	Solution, leverage, seamless, cutting-edge, synergy.
What we call the customer	You. By name when we know it.
How we say no	Plainly, once, with an alternative if there is one.

SECTION D

YOUR DETAILS

The worksheet — fill this in first

Answer in the plainest words you have. Do not write what you think a business should sound like — write what you would say to a customer standing in front of you.

Business name and what you sell, in one line:

Who your best customer is (age, area, what they do):

The problem they come to you with, in their words:

What you do that a competitor does not:

Your price or price range:

Your delivery time or turnaround:

How a customer reaches you (number, handle, address):

The one thing you want this pack to fix first:

Three words you would use about your own work:

Three words you would never use:

DO THIS

The checklist

Work down the list in order. Tick as you go. If you only do the first three, you will still be ahead of most people who bought this.

Step 1	☐	Write the fact line. No adjectives. If your competitor could say it, cut it.
Step 2	☐	Write the difference. It must be checkable — a number, a scope, a promise you keep.
Step 3	☐	Write the feeling. One sentence, no poetry.
Step 4	☐	Test it: read it to someone who does not know your business. Ask them to repeat it back.
Step 5	☐	If they get it wrong, the wording is wrong — not the listener.
Step 6	☐	Rewrite every bio, description and first message you own to match.
Step 7	☐	Delete every word from your never-use list.
Step 8	☐	Read it out loud. If you would not say it to a friend, rewrite it.

QUESTIONS

Five things people ask

How long should my description be?

One line for social, three for a website, 750 characters for Google. Same message, different lengths.

Should I use my industry jargon?

Only the words your customer already uses. Test: would they type it into Google?

What if I serve several audiences?

Write one message per audience. Do not merge them — that is how the message becomes mush.

Can I keep my slogan?

Keep it as a signature, not as your explanation. A slogan cannot do the work of a description.

What if I am new with no track record?

Say so, and say what you can do. Honesty about being new is more persuasive than a vague claim of excellence.

SUPPORT

If something is unclear

Message us on WhatsApp and ask. If a file will not open, or a page is missing, we replace it within seven days, no questions. That is the whole support promise — there is no upsell waiting at the end of it.
